HILLMAN

*the thought
of the heart
and
the soul
of the world*

the primary principle: that the thought of the heart is the thought of images, that the heart is the seat of imagination, that imagination is the authentic voice of the heart, so that if we speak from the heart we must speak imaginatively.

James Hillman

The Thought of the Heart and the Soul of the World

#kindlequotes

we are bereft in our culture of an adequate psychology and philosophy of the heart, and therefore also of the imagination.
Our hearts cannot apprehend that they are imaginatively thinking hearts because we have so long been told that the mind thinks and the heart feels and that imagination leads us astray from both.

James Hillman

The Thought of the Heart and the Soul of the World

If beauty arrests
motion, motion
eradicates
beauty.
